13495. Adulteration and misbranding of gray shorts and screenings. U. S. v. 60 Sacks of Gray Shorts and Screenings. Decree of condemnation and forfeiture. Product released under bond. (F. & D. No. 19571. I. S. No. 22713-v. S. No. C-4643.)

On or about February 19, 1925, the United States attorney for the Western District of Louisiana, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the District Court of the United States for said district a libel praying the seizure and condemnation of 60 sacks of gray shorts and screenings, remaining in the original unbroken packages at Monroe, La., alleging that the article had been shipped by J. F. Weinmann Milling Co., from Little Rock, Ark., on or about January 19, 1925, and transported from the State of Arkansas into the State of Louisiana, and charging adulteration and misbranding in violation of the food and drugs act. The article was labeled in part: "Wheat Gray Shorts and Screenings."

Adulteration of the article was alleged in the libel for the reason that an added substance, to wit, brown shorts, had been mixed and packed therewith so as to reduce, lower, and injuriously affect its quality or strength and had been substituted wholly or in part for the said article.

Misbranding was alleged for the reason that the designation "Wheat Gray Shorts," printed on the sacks containing the article, was false and misleading and deceived and misled the purchaser, and for the further reason that the article was offered for sale under the distinctive name of another article.

On April 9, 1925, the Southern Grocer Co. (Ltd.), Monroe, La., having appeared as claimant for the property, judgment of condemnation and forfeiture was entered, and it was ordered by the court that the product be released to the said claimant upon payment of the costs of the proceedings and the execution of a bond in the sum of $100, in conformity with section 10 of the act, conditioned in part that it be properly relabeled in accordance with law.

13496. Misbranding of wheat gray shorts and screenings. U. S. v. 400 Sacks of Wheat Gray Shorts and Screenings. Consent decree of condemnation and forfeiture. Product released under bond. (F. & D. No. 20031. I. S. No. 22001-v. S. No. C-4437.)

On July 11, 1924, the United States attorney for the District of Kansas, acting upon a report by an official of the State of Kansas, filed in the District Court of the United States for said district a libel praying the seizure and condemnation of 400 sacks of wheat gray shorts and screenings, remaining in the original unbroken packages at Kansas City, Kans., alleging that the article had been shipped by B. C. Christopher & Co., Kansas City, Mo., on or about July 3, 1924, and transported from the State of Missouri into the State of Kansas, and charging misbranding in violation of the food and drugs act.

Misbranding of the article was alleged in substance in the libel for the reason that the tags on the sacks containing the article stated that the contents thereof was wheat gray shorts and screenings, whereas the said article was not wheat gray shorts, in that a necessary ingredient had been abstracted in the process of manufacture, creating an article in imitation of and offered for sale under the distinctive name of another article, so as to deceive and mislead the purchaser thereof.

On July 25, 1924, B. C. Christopher & Co., Kansas City, Mo., having appeared as claimant for the property and having consented to the entry of a decree, judgment of condemnation and forfeiture was entered, and it was ordered by the court that the product be released to the said claimant upon payment of the costs of the proceedings and the execution of a bond in the sum of $500, in conformity with section 10 of the act, conditioned in part that it be relabeled to show its true contents.

13497. Adulteration and misbranding of jams, jelly, and preserves. U. S. v. F. P. Adams Co., Inc. Plea of nolo contendere. Fine, $50.
(F. & D. No. 19308. I. S. Nos. 15362-v, 15363-v, 15365-v, 15366-v, 15372-v, 15373-v.)

On April 8, 1925, the United States attorney for the District of Massachusetts, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the District Court of the United States for said district an information against F. P. Adams Co. (Inc.), a corporation, Boston, Mass., alleging shipment by said company, in violation of the food and drugs act, in various consignments, namely, on or about November 12, 16, and 22, 1923, respectively, from the State of Massachusetts into the State of Rhode Island, of quantities of jams and jelly, and on or about December 2, 1923, from the State of Massachusetts into the State of New Hampshire, of quantities of preserves, all of which were adulterated and misbranded. The articles were labeled, variously, in part: "Pure Strawberry" (or "Raspberry") "Jam Prepared From Selected Fruit And Refined Sugar Manufactured By F. P. Adams Co. Inc. Boston, U. S. A."; "Pure Apple Jelly"; and "Pure Food Strawberry" (or "Raspberry") "Preserve Made From Selected Fruit and Refined Sugar."

Analyses of samples of the articles by the Bureau of Chemistry of this department showed that they were composed in part of glucose and added pectin.

Adulteration of the articles was alleged in the information for the reason that glucose pectin fruit products had been mixed and packed therewith so as to lower and reduce and injuriously affect their quality and strength and had been substituted for the said articles.

Misbranding was alleged for the reason that the statements, to wit, "Pure Strawberry" (or "Raspberry") "Jam Prepared From Selected Fruit And Refined Sugar," with respect to the said jams, "Pure Apple Jelly," with respect to the said jelly, and "Pure Strawberry" (or "Raspberry") "Preserve Made From Selected Fruit and Refined Sugar," with respect to the said preserves, borne on the respective labels, were false and misleading, in that the said statements represented that the articles were pure strawberry or raspberry jams or preserves, made from selected fruit and refined sugar, or pure apple jelly, as the case might be, and for the further reason that they were labeled as aforesaid so as to deceive and mislead the purchaser into the belief that they were pure strawberry or raspberry jams or preserves, made from selected fruit and refined sugar, or pure apple jelly, as the case might be, whereas they were not but were mixtures composed in part of glucose and added pectin.

On April 27, 1925, a plea of nolo contendere to the information was entered on behalf of the defendant company, and the court imposed a fine of $50.

13498. Adulteration and misbranding of assorted preserves. U. S. v. 89 Cases and 91 Cases of Preserves. Consent decree of condemnation and forfeiture. Products released under bond. (F. & D. No. 19528. I. S. Nos. 23159-v to 23163-v, incl. S. No. C-4620.)

On January 26, 1925, the United States attorney for the District of Kansas, acting upon a report by the Secretary of Agriculture, filed in the District Court of the United States for said district a libel praying the seizure and condemnation of 180 cases of assorted preserves, remaining in the original unbroken packages at Wichita, Kans., alleging that the articles had been shipped by the Goodwin Preserving Co., from Louisville, Ky., on or about October 28, 1924, and transported from the State of Kentucky into the State of Kansas, and charging adulteration and misbranding in violation of the food and drugs act as amended. The articles were labeled in part: (Jar) "O B Brand Cherry" (or "Strawberry" or "Raspberry" or "Blackberry" or "Peach" or "Pineapple") "Preserves With Apple Pectin Contents 2 Lbs., 12 Ozs." (or "Contents 14½ ozs.") "Goodwin Preserving Co. Incorporated Louisville, Ky. U. S. A."

Adulteration of the articles was alleged in the libel for the reason that an acidified compound, cherry (or strawberry, raspberry, blackberry, peach, or pineapple, as the case might be) and pectin preserve, had been mixed and packed therewith so as to reduce, lower, or injuriously affect their quality or strength and had been substituted wholly or in part for the said articles.

Misbranding was alleged in substance for the reason that the statements "Strawberry" (or "Cherry" or "Raspberry" or "Blackberry" or "Peach" or "Pineapple", as the case might be) "preserves," borne on the labels, were false and misleading and deceived and misled the purchaser, and the said statements were not corrected by the inconspicuous statement "Apple Pectin." Misbranding was alleged for the further reason that the articles were imita-
